Shepley

The Feast on Trinity Tuesday. The weather was propitious, the Wesleyan and New Connexion Sunday schools formed into a procession, after which headed by Shepley Brass Band. they walked through the village. Stopping on the way in front of the residences of most of the gentlemen in the neighbourhood, where they sang hymns specially prepared for the occasion. After the procession the children were treated to a bountiful supply of tea and buns, which they greatly enjoyed and the teachers sat down to an excellent tea. In the evening they had games and innocent amusements in a field provided by Thomas Holden.

This is a picture of Thurlstone Band in 1860 to give you some idea of how Shepley Band members and their instruments may have looked at the time
